About the Speakers:

Olympic and Stanley Cup champion, Theo Fleury is passionate about sharing his journey of healing from childhood trauma and the challenges that came after. Kim Barthel, who Theo calls “the Wayne Gretzky of Therapy,” is a world-renowned occupational therapist and teacher on self-awareness and relationships. Together, they join forces to stop cycles of trauma and empower impactful healing.

As a dynamic motivational speaker, Fleury is brutally honest, vulnerable and engaging. Although he's recently won many awards for his contributions to improving mental health, this work is just beginning. Fleury will tell you it really is okay to be having these conversations and that as human beings, we're all on the same team.

Kim Barthel is a one-of-a-kind and highly sought-after speaker and therapist. She actively teaches around the world in the fields of relational trauma, attachment theory and sensory processing. As an occupational therapist, she blends her own brand of intuitive inquiry with cutting-edge developments in neuroscience to help people develop awareness, compassion and healthy relationships.

Witness and participate in an intimate conversation about compassionate healing with Kim Barthel and Theo Fleury.

Through this unique approach via down-to-Earth conversation, the therapeutic process unfolds—blending Theo's personal life experience of recovery and Kim's theory and understanding of trauma and the healing process.

You can expect to hear:

Theo sharing his profound and life-changing personal account of his journey through trauma and addiction, towards healing. Kim explains in everyday language how our brains work and that there are always reasons for our behaviour.

The pair has inspired survivors, victors and therapists alike.
